NEW "FROSTY MORN" MOCKORANGE

Plant Patent 1174

A FASCINATING BUSH'S NURSERY INTRODUCTION FOR 1954

We are the only nursery offering our new Dwarf Double Mockorange, "Frosty Morn," this year — a limited supply.

THIS NEW MOCKORANGE IS TRULY IN A CLASS BY ITSELF!

The blossoms are pure white, sweet-scented, and every one is entirely double. The dainty, graceful branches are covered during the month of June with a shower of these glistening, snow-white flowers. There are also some blossoms in late summer and fall.

The dwarf, compact habit of growth makes the "Frosty Morn" an ideal shrub for foundation planting, for a beautiful hedge, or for specimen planting. The ultimate height is about three feet.

We are offering well branched shrubs which will bloom this year.

IMPORTANT PLANTING DIRECTIONS FOR ROSES

Plant roses 2 to 3 inches above the graft. Then hill up with soil at least one-half of the top, leaving a good basin to hold water. Fill up the basin at least four times every other day until roses are well sprouted.

Plant with well rotted cow manure and bone meal.

PLANTING SUGGESTIONS

TUBEROUS BEGONIAS—After they have sprouts 2 inches high, pot in good organic fertilized soil, just covering the bulb. About the last of May, plant out-of-doors in a shady place.

DAHLIAS—Plant deep! Dig out generous-sized holes, and put rotted manure or peat, and bone meal at the bottom of each, mixing well with the soil. Place tuber on its side with eye up, five or six inches below the surface of the ground, but fill in only half the depth of soil at first.

GLADIOLUS—Soak 3 to 6 hours in solution of 1 tsp. Lysol in 1 quart of water. Plant when ground is warm—using bone meal—and at 10-day intervals for succession of bloom, allowing 70 to 90 days for maturity. Plant 4 or 5 inches deep in light soil, but only 3 to 4 inches in heavy soil.

LILIES—Prepare soil with one part loam, one part peat or leafmold, one part sand and rotted manure with a little bone meal added. Dig out the soil to a depth of from one to two feet, put coal ashes or sand into the subsoil. Fill in with the good, prepared soil. Plant lilies 4 to 6 inches deep for base rooting types, 5, to 8 inches for stem rooting. Mulch the soil above after planting.

PERENNIALS—The soil should be well worked. Fertilizer and plenty of humus are necessary for success.

PEONIES—Should be planted with the bud tips about 1½ inches below the surface of the ground. Use one cup of bone meal for each peony.

IRIS—Should be planted with the rhizome barely covered, bone meal for fertilizer.
